COMPTROLLER COLER MAKES STREN-UOUS OBJECTION.

Tells the Rapid Transit Commissioners That the Scheme Is Immoral and Will Be Un-constitutional If Pending Amendments to the Constitution Are Adopted.

The Poard of Rapid Transit Commissioners. whose offices in the Home Life Insurance Compan's bullding were burned out in the fire on genday night, held a regular meeting at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. Comptroller Coler went to the meeting to urge his fellow Commissioners not to seek for legis-lation empowering them to build the road with money obtained on bonds of the county of New York, without reference to the city. which he thinks would be wrong morally, even git should be decided to be legal, Mr. Coler get not get to the meeting until it had adjourned, and therefore had no opportunity to stpress his views formally. He brought the matter up for informal discussion.

Mr. Coler thinks that the framers of the State Constitution intended to prevent just what the liapid Transit Commissioners propose to have done. Section 10 of Article VIII. of the Constitution says that "any debt hereafter incurred by any portion or part of a city. if there shall be any such debt, shall be in ended in ascertaining the power of the city after incurred. Of any such debt, shall be included in ascertaining the power of the city to become otherwise indebted. Whenever the bondaries of any city shall become the same as those of a county, the power of the county is become indebted shall cease, but the debt of the county at that time existing shall not be included as part of the city debt."

Mr. Coler says that this did not apply to the old city of New York, which included a part of westebester county. He says that the framers of the charter saw the danger of a double indebtedness, and introduced in the last Legislaure an amendment to prevent just what the Commissioners want done. The proposed amendment was adopted by both branches of the Legislaure. It must come up again at the people. The amendment is as follows:

"Whenever the boundaries of any city are the same as those of a county, or where any city shall include within its boundaries more than one county, the power of any county wholly included within such a city to become indebted shall rease."

Mr. Coler will fight vigorously against any scheme looking toward the creation of a debt within a debt in the city. He believes that such action would be a gross injustice to holders of bonds of the city of New York, and would be not only morally bad, but would be a roor business policy.

Secretary Delaffield said vesterday that so far as he had been able to find out the most valuable thing which the commission lost in the fire on Sunday night was its seal. The plans, drawings and data of the hole in the ground were all in Engineer Parsons's office, Mr. Belafield had copies of all the records of the commission in his office. Three days before the fire tieorge L. Rives sent to the Commissioners' office for the records of the first lapid Transit Commission, and he had them in his offices when the Home Life building was after. The sommission will meet at the Chamber of Commerce until new quarters are found.

America's Capabilities for Reaping the Fruits of a Vast Asiatic Trade.

The first of a series of free lectures to be giren under direction of the Fortnightly Library Club of Brooklyn was delivered last night in the Hendrix Street Baptist Church by Mr. C. C. Adams. The course will include lectures by Justice Gaynor, W. A. McAndrew, Edward M. Shepard and Andrew McLean. The subject chosen last night by Mr. Adams was "Our New Colonies." The lecturer was introduced by John T. McKechnie. Mr. Adams's discourse related chiefly to the material advantages that we may expect to derive from our new colonial possessions. He showed that long ago we became the leading agricultural nation and within the past ten years we had become the greatest manufacturing nation of rease the value of our annual output of manufactures one-fourth to make it worth double the annual product of Great Britain, our near-

Within the past fifteen years a number of remarkable facts had combined to make it possible for us to compete with every other nation for our proper share of the trade and to place us in a position where colonies would be advantageous to us. Among these circumstances he mentioned the fact that distance had ceased to be an important element in the cost of freightage. Such improvements had been made in steam poilers and engines that a pound of coal now did the work that three pounds did twenty years ago. A result of improvements in machinery was that it cost now only about one-fifth as much to carry a ton of wheat from New York to Germany or France as it did twenty years ago We could send a bale of cotton from New York to Liverpool as cheaply as it could be carr

What he Duich had done for the Javanese the Americans could and would do for the Filiphous.
